2. SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT LIFE CYCLE [SDLC]

3. HOURS OF WORK, ATTENDANCE AND PUNCTUALITY

A. Hours of Work

The normal work week for organization shall consist of nine (9) hour days. Ordinarily, work hours are from 9:30 AM - 7:30 PM, including 30 mins for lunch, 15 mins break in the morning and evening session. “Work time” includes time spent in actual performance of job duties but does not include lunch periods or breaks.

Employees may request the opportunity to vary their work schedules (within employer-defined limits) to better accommodate personal responsibilities. Subject to organizations work assignments and HR Manager approval, the employee’s supervisor shall determine the hours of employment that best suits the needs of the work to be done by the individual employee.

B. Attendance and Punctuality

Attendance is a key factor in your job performance. Punctuality and regular attendance are expected from all employees. Excessive absences (whether excused or unexcused), tardiness or leaving early is unacceptable. If you are absent for any reason or plan to arrive late or leave early, you must notify your supervisor and the office manager as far in advance as possible and no later than one hour before the start of your scheduled work day. In the event of an emergency, you must notify your supervisor as soon as possible.

For all absences extending longer than one day, you must telephone your immediate supervisor prior to the start of each scheduled workday. When reporting an absence, you should indicate the nature of the problem causing your absence and your expected return-to work date. A physician's statement may be required as proof of the need for any illness-related absence regardless of the length of the absence.

C. Personnel records

Personnel records are the property of ELINTSYS and access to the information they contain is restricted and confidential. A personnel file shall be kept for each employee and should include the employee's job application, copy of the letter of employment and position description, performance reviews, disciplinary records, records of salary increases and any other relevant personnel information. It is the responsibility of each employee to promptly notify his / her supervisor in writing of any changes in personnel data, including personal mailing addresses, telephone numbers, names of dependents and individuals to be contacted in the event of an emergency.

Accurately recording time worked is the responsibility of every employee. Tampering, altering or falsifying time records or recording time on another employee's time record may result in disciplinary action, including separation from employment with Organization.

4. ABSENTEEISM

Absenteeism refers to unauthorized absence of the employee from his job. Absence is the failure of an employee to report for work on duty when he is scheduled to work on his duty. An employee is to be considered as scheduled to work when the employer has work available" for him and the employee is aware of it.

Consequences of Absenteeism:

- When the nature of work is interdependent, absenteeism affects regular flow of work.

- Manpower shortage triggered by absenteeism hinders the delivery schedule of the organization. This makes organization vulnerable to face litigation, penalty and loss of orders from clients
- Available workers need to be overloaded and overtime wages need to be paid to complete the task.
- Delayed delivery, delayed execution of orders leads to loss of customers and thereby the company loses its reputation
- The precious time of the employer is wasted in initiating disciplinary action on unauthorized absentees.
- Being absent from work without taking leave is an act of negligence.

Disciplinary action for Absenteeism

Excessive absences, tardiness or leaving early will be grounds for discipline up to and including termination. Depending on the circumstances, including the employee's length of employment, management may counsel employees prior to termination for excessive absences, tardiness or leaving early.

Two-day salary shall be deducted for one day of unauthorized absence. If the employee remains absent for 2 days continuously the HR team shall initiate termination procedures.

- An employee who is absent from work for two consecutive days without notification to his or her supervisor or the HR Manager or if an employee abstains from work for more than two continuous days, Phone or an e- mail/telegram will be sent to him /her for immediate reporting.
- If the employee does not respond within 24 hrs. of such communication, the HR Manager is bound to send a show cause notice to the concerned employee.

If the employee does not respond within 1 day of such show cause notice the company will terminate his or her employment.

5. LEAVES POLICY

Leave year is from 1st April – 31st March. The different types of leaves covered under this policy are:

TYPES OF LEAVES:

1. Casual Leave (CL)
2. Sick Leave (SL)
3. Maternity Leave (ML)
4. Compensatory Off (Comp-off)
5. Marriage Leave
6. Paternity Leave
7. Bereavement Leave
8. Loss of Pay (LOP) / Leave Without Pay (LWP)

Casual Leave (CL) & Sick Leave (SL):

Casual leaves accommodate any urgent/ unforeseen personal requirements

Sick Leaves are provided on the grounds of sickness or in case of accidents.

The organization provides 12 days of casual leave and 6 days of sick leave per calendar year to all employees. Employees who have not completed the probationary period are not eligible for sick leave. Both casual and sick leave can be accumulated but cannot be carried forward into the next year.

An employee serving as an official representative of ELINTSYS at a conference or meeting or client visit is considered on duty and not on leave. When considering a request for a casual leave, HR Team / Supervisors will consider factors such as the employee's position, the employee's length of service, the employee's performance record including attendance, the purpose of the leave, the needs of the department in which the employee works, the effect of the leave on other employees and organization's general business needs.

Maternity Leave (ML):

Eligibility

- Maternity Leave is a statutory leave.
- Married and expecting women Employees are eligible to avail maternity leave.
- The Employee should have completed 6 months of service with the company to be eligible to avail maternity leave. This leave is applicable only for first two children.

Entitlement

- Maternity leave can be availed only twice during the service of the Employee.
- Maternity leave can be availed for a maximum period of 90 days.
- Unavailing maternity leave is not adjusted against the Casual leave balance of the employee or any other leave.
- The Employee will receive the full amount of salary during the period of maternity leave, this will be salary last drawn by the Employee before going on Maternity Leave.

If the employee wants to extend the duration of leave beyond the stipulated duration, (i.e. max of 90 days), the employee may extend the leave by utilizing her entitled paid leave with prior permission of the concerned Head / Reporting Manager.

Process

A written application / email for the maternity Leave, along with the doctor's certificate should be submitted by the Employee at least one month prior to start of maternity leave. This application should also mention the dates and duration of the leave period as well as the joining date. The application / email should be forwarded to HRD after the Department.

Marriage Leave:

This is the paid leave provided for employees getting married. Marriage leave can be availed for the period of 7 days (including Saturdays and Sundays)

The HR department may require either as an invitation card or a marriage certificate as documentary proof for approving the leave.

The eligibility is for only once during the employee's entire employment period in the organization. In case of remarriage or multiple marriages, employees will have to utilize their leave balances or even go on leave without pay.

Completion of probationary period

7 working days

Submit invitation card or marriage certificate

Only for first marriage

Paternity Leave:

The Paternity Leave is a leave offered to expectant fathers after a child is born. It is a leave meant for the father to take care of the newborn and the mother.

Employee can avail paternity leave for a period of 3 working days within 4 weeks from the first day of baby's birth.

The Employee should have completed 6 months of service with the company to be eligible to avail the Paternity Leave and this leave is applicable only for first two children.

Completion of probationary period

1st & 2nd children only

3 working days within 4 weeks of baby's birth

Bereavement Leave:

Bereavement Leave is a leave type granted when there is a death of the family member (father, mother, wife, sister, brother and children). This leave is for participating in the last rites or funeral services, taking care of any personal matters, and most importantly, to grieve.

An employee can avail this bereavement leave only for 3 days inclusive of Saturday and Sunday.

Death of the family members (father, mother, wife, sister, brother and children)

3 working days with Pay

Compensatory Off (comp-off):

If an employee has to work on a weekend or a national / festival holiday due to the priority of the deliverables, they are offered a compensatory off on any other workday.

Since these leaves depend on the business requirements, the grant of these leaves happens on a case by case basis.

The employee has to claim comp off after having worked on a non-working day. This request should be approved by the immediate manager and then forwarded to HR. Once approved, a comp-off leave is granted to the employee. The employee has to utilize this comp-off leave within a week period.

Loss of Pay Leave (LOP/LWP):

There are cases when an employee has exhausted all leave balance but still requires time-off for some exigency. In such situations, employees are allowed to go on leave without pay (LWP). Since there is a loss of income (LOP) when an employee avails this type of leave, it's also called LOP leave.

Any leave availed in violation of leave policy is considered as LOP. For example, an employee going on vacation without prior intimation or approval. Or an employee not providing medical certificates in case of sick leave as per policy.

Procedure to avail Leave

All planned leaves should be applied in advance (5 days) unless circumstances are such that it is not possible to do so. In such cases, a telephone call or an email to the concerned Reporting Authority or in his/her absence to the concerned Department / Manager as intimation should serve the purpose. Under the sandwich leave policy, the non-working weekend days get added to the total leaves if an employee takes leave in the midst of two general holidays or his leaves fall before & after the week off.

All applications for leave must be made through an email or on the prescribed Leave template available with the HR Department which has to be duly approved and signed by the immediate supervisor. The supervisor has to update the employee 's information to the HR Team.

General rules on Leave

1 It is the Employee's individual responsibility to ensure his/her Leave account is duly updated every time leave is availed.

2 It should be a very rare instance that an employee is not allowed to avail his/her leave, due to exigencies of work. Leave should be planned in such a way that it does not affect - productivity or does not affect the project work/delivery deadlines.

3 If leave is not sanctioned and an Employee remains absent on those days, then the absence will be treated as unauthorized absence “Leave without Pay”, irrespective of working days or holidays i.e., any holiday sandwiched between 2 days of Leave Without Pay will be included in the Leave availed.

4 The Employee should check the Leave balance before applying for the same.

However, for selective applications of Managers and above, will be forwarded by the HR to the CEO for sanctions.

- a. Applications for leave for more than 3 days at a stretch
- b. Mass leave applications on the same day /s
- c. Applicant insisting on proceeding on leave despite advises against it.

5 No sick leave will be acceptable without supporting medical documents issued by a registered medical practitioner

6 Elintsys will not be responsible for making any claims to the ESI department or the Insurance Company during sick leaves by any employee; this will have to be handled by employee themselves.

7 Notwithstanding all the above policies, the management of Elintsys reserves the right to overrule sanctions or policies and issue directions as deemed fit for specific deserving cases.

Paid Holidays

1. All permanent employees are eligible for paid holidays in a calendar year.
2. Paid holidays are selected on the basis of national / international holidays / local festivals celebrated.
3. The total number of holidays will be decided by the Company every year.

 The following are the holidays for the calendar

HOLIDAY LIST
Month	Festival
January	New Year
January	Pongal holidays
January	Republic Day
April	Tamil Year
August	Independence Day
August	Vinayaka Chaturthi
October	Gandhi Jayanthi
October	Pooja Holidays
October	Deepavali

6. DRESS CODE AND PERSONAL APPEARANCE

Dress Code

Appropriate office attire is required. Suppliers and customers visit our office and we wish to put forth an image that will make us all proud to be ELINTSYS employees. Be guided by common sense and good taste. All the employees are expected to wear clean and presentable clothes. The Office environment reflects the Company's way of working and employees are expected to maintain a professional standard. Business casual dress will be permitted on Saturdays.

Personal Appearance

Dress, grooming and personal cleanliness standards contribute to the morale of all employees and affect the business image Elintsys presents to customers and visitors. During business hours or when representing Elintsys, you are expected to present a clean, neat and tasteful appearance. You should dress and groom yourself according to the requirements of your position and accepted social standards. This is particularly true if your job involves dealing with customers or visitors in person. Your supervisor or department head is responsible for establishing a reasonable dress code appropriate to the job you perform. Consult your supervisor if you have questions as to what constitutes appropriate appearance. Wherever necessary, reasonable accommodation may be made to a person with a disability.

Without unduly restricting individual tastes, the following personal appearance guidelines should be followed:

1. Jeans, Bermuda, t-shirt and shorts do not present appropriate professional attire.
2. Unnaturally colored hair and extreme hairstyles, such as spiked hair and shaved heads, do not present an appropriate professional appearance.
3. Offensive body odor and poor personal hygiene is not professionally acceptable.
4. Facial jewelry, such as eyebrow rings, nose rings, lip rings and tongue studs are not professionally appropriate and must not be worn during business hours.
5. Multiple ear piercings (more than one ring in each ear) are not professionally appropriate and must not be worn during business hours.

Visible excessive tattoos and similar body art must be covered during business hours.

7. CONDUCT STANDARDS, COMPLIANCE AND DISCIPLINES

ELINTSYS expects every employee to adhere to the highest standards of job performance and of personal conduct, including individual involvement with company personnel and outside business contacts.

The Company reserves the right to discipline or discharge any employee for violating any company policy, practice or rule of conduct. However, it does not include every type of unacceptable behavior that can or will result in disciplinary action. Be aware that Elintsys retains the discretion to determine the nature and extent of any discipline based upon the circumstances of each individual case.

Compliance

Employees who fail to comply with this policy will be disciplined, which may include a demand for reimbursement of any losses or damages, termination of employment and referral for criminal prosecution. Action appropriate to the circumstances will also be taken against supervisors or others who fail to report a violation or withhold relevant information concerning a violation of this policy.

Employees may be disciplined or terminated for poor job performance & misconduct, including, but not limited to the following:

- unsatisfactory quality or quantity of work
- repeated unexcused absences or lateness
- failing to follow instructions or Company procedures
- failing to follow established safety regulations
- falsifying an employment application or any other company records or documents.
- failing to record working time accurately or recording a co-worker's timesheet.
- insubordination or other refusal to perform reasonable work-related requests from a manager.
- using vulgar, profane or obscene language, including any communication or action that violates our policy against harassment and other unlawful forms of discrimination.
- disorderly conduct, fighting or other acts of violence.

- misusing, destroying or stealing company property or another person's property.
- possessing, entering with or using weapons on company property.
- possessing, selling, using or reporting to work with alcohol, controlled substances or illegal drugs present in the employee's system, on company property or on company time.
- violating conflict of interest rules.
- disclosing or using confidential or proprietary information without authorization.
- violating the Company's computer or software use policies, and being convicted of a crime that indicates unfitness for a job or presents a threat to the Company or its employees in any way.

Disciplines:

- The company may take disciplinary action against any employee in the event of misconduct, inefficiency or in discipline and any such action shall be confirmed in writing.
- The company may after due enquiry give verbal warning; written reprimand; suspension and termination.
- Dismiss an employee without notice on the grounds of misconduct inconsistent with the fulfillment of the expressed or implied conditions of service.

Progressive discipline:

Progressive discipline is a method of discipline that uses graduated steps for dealing with problems related to an employee's conduct or performance that do not meet clearly defined standards and policies. The ultimate objective of progressive discipline is to help employees correct conduct problems and resolve performance issues in the earliest stages.

- Provides a consistent, objective and fair process for disciplining.
- Promotes open communication between a supervisor and his or her employee.
- Improves employee productivity.
- Potentially increases employee retention by resolving issues.
- Provides important documentation should a termination become necessary.

The following steps included in a progressive discipline system:

Counseling & Verbal Warning:

The employee's supervisor should inform the employee of the infraction and clearly advise the employee both of the conduct expected and that future infractions may result in more severe discipline.

Verbal Warning:

A verbal warning may be appropriate for a more serious offense where counselling is inadequate. When issuing an oral warning, the employer should clearly advise the employee as to what is needed to remedy the employee's infraction and advise the employee that more severe disciplinary consequences will follow if the infraction is repeated.

The supervisor should nevertheless maintain a written record of the counseling or verbal warning in order to prove that it used progressive discipline in the event that the problem continues.

Written Warning:

A written warning usually follows an unsuccessful verbal warning, or new problems that have arisen. This document should clearly state the infraction and the consequences for a repeat offense. The written warning should be addressed to the employee and a copy placed in the employee's personnel file.

Possible Next Courses of Action:

- Withhold compensation increases. An employee who has a pattern of misconduct may be denied a compensation increase.
- Demotion. It may be appropriate to demote an employee, perhaps to a level where the employee may better perform.
- Suspension. Another possible course of action would be a suspension without pay. The length of the suspension may vary from a day or two to a week or more, depending on the seriousness of the infraction.
- Termination. The decision to terminate an employee should be one made as the result of consultation by the employee's supervisor with one or more upper-level managers (as well as legal counsel, if appropriate). The decision should never be made by a single person.

Disciplinary Appeal

Policy Statement

During all stages of the disciplinary process employees have the right to appeal against any disciplinary action taken against them.

Process

An employee is entitled to lodge a written appeal to their manager detailing his/her objections to the disciplinary action within three working days of notification.

Managers should:

- acknowledge receipt of the employee's objection
- investigate the matter thoroughly
- report back to the employee within seven days

If the appeal is disallowed an employee is entitled to appeal to the next most senior manager.

The next most senior manager should investigate the matter and report back to the employee within 5 working days.

The employee has no further right of appeal under this process if the second appeal is disallowed.

All procedures must be followed in accordance with employment equal opportunity/anti-discrimination legislation.

8. POOR PERFORMANCE

Poor performance or underperformance is when an employee is not meeting the standards and expectations of their role in the company. Poor Performance includes

- Inability to fulfil the standards and expectations of their role
- Failing to ensure work is completed within a required timeframe
- Repeated errors in work

The following procedures shall be followed if the employee fall below required performance standard

First employee must be personally counselled to know the reason for poor performance such as Misunderstanding of standards / requirement and expectations for the job, Not enough training or support, Personal reasons or sickness or any other

Second give a written confirmation of their deficiencies in performance (a written warning) should issue. Written warnings must clearly define the deficiency, the expected standard, by when it should be achieved.

Such written warnings must clearly define the deficiency, the expected standard, by when it should be achieved, how the company will help the employee achieve the improvement required and the consequences of failing to do so.

A record of all meetings, training and/or coaching given and a summary of discussions must be kept by the manager concerned and a copy placed on the employee's personnel file. This should include date, location and time of discussion.

The manager concerned has documentation showing the conversations taken place, agreed action plans and other communication with the employee.

All possible corrective action, including training and coaching, should be undertaken

The employee should be informed of the consequences of failing to meet the required standards.

If this plan does not work, it may be necessary to allocate the employee to a different position.

If all these processes have been followed and the employee's performance still has not improved, then the employee may be terminated.

9. SEPARATION POLICY

1. As per the terms of appointment, employee need to serve 90 Days' notice period, if there is a need to extend employee notice period due to business requirements, the notice period will be extended after mutual discussions. In case employee last working day (LWD) falls on non-working day, then employee LWD will be preponed or postponed by maximum 3 days.
2. During employee notice period if employee decide to withdraw their resignation, employee can reach to HR team and request for the same. The request will have approval process and on approval from your HR head the same will be considered. Employee are expected to abide by the Appointment Letter, Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA) Non-Compliance Agreement (NCA) & Companies Code of Conduct & all Policies and Procedures.
3. Refer the terms mentioned with respect to serving notice period, knowledge transfer, returning company assets, delivering responsibilities, poaching and confidentiality. Any nonadherence to the terms and conditions of the appointment letter and NDA will be documented in the relieving letter.
4. Employee Relieving letter will be issued if all agreed terms and conditions are fulfilled before LWD, which also includes Completion of notice period, Completion of knowledge transfer to the assigned team member by manager and Returning company assets.
5. Exit clearance is a mandatory process in off boarding an employee. This includes return of company assets and completion of knowledge transfer. It takes maximum of 45 days to process the final settlement once the exit clearance is completed. Hence any delay in returning the company asset will result in proportionate postponement of Full & Final settlement.

Circumstances under which separation may occur include:

6. Resignation- Employees are encouraged to give 90 business days of written notice. Since a longer period is desired, the intention to resign should be made known as far in advance as possible.
7. Termination or Lay-off. Under certain circumstances, the termination or lay-off of an employee may be necessary. The HR Manager has authority to discharge an employee from the employment of ELINTSYS. That means that employees may be terminated from employment with or without cause.

Reasons for discharge may include, but are not limited to:

- Falsifying or withholding information on your employment application that did or would have affected organization's decision to hire you (this conduct will result in your immediate termination);
- Falsifying or withholding information in other personnel records including Personnel questionnaires, performance evaluations or any other records;
- Performance at work below a level acceptable to organization or the failure to perform assigned duties;
- Failure to complete required time records or falsification of such time records;
- Insubordination;
- Refusing to work reasonable overtime;
- Negligence in the performance of duties likely to cause or actually causing personal injury or property damage;
- Fighting, arguing or attempting to injure another;
- Destroying or willfully damaging the personal property of another, including organization's property;
- Breach of confidentiality;
- Using or appearing to use for personal gain any information obtained on the job, which is not readily available to the general public or disclosing such information that damages the interest.
- Engaging in discriminatory or abusive behavior, including sexual harassment.

At the sole discretion of the HR Manager, the employee may be asked to leave immediately or be given a period of notice.

10. WORK REVIEW

The work of each employee is reviewed on an ongoing basis with the supervisor to provide a systematic means of evaluating performance. The annual performance review is a formal opportunity for the supervisor and employee to exchange ideas that will strengthen their working relationship, review the past year, and anticipate organization's needs in the coming year. The purpose of the review is to encourage the exchange of ideas in order to create positive change within organization. To that end, it is incumbent upon both parties to have an open and honest discussion concerning the employee's performance. It is further incumbent upon the supervisor to clearly communicate the needs of ELINTSYS and what is expected of the employee in contributing to the success of ELINTSYS for the coming year.

Both supervisor and employee should attempt to arrive at an understanding regarding the objectives for the coming year. This having been done, both parties should sign the performance review form, which will be kept as part of the employee's personnel record and used as a guide during the course of the year to monitor employee progress relative to the agreed upon objectives.

The HR Manager reviews the works of all supervisors. Work reviews for other staff are the responsibility of the appropriate supervisor, subject to confirmation by the HR Manager.

11. REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES

Reimbursement is authorized for reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in carrying out job responsibilities. Mileage or transportation, parking fees, business telephone calls and meal costs are all illustrative of reasonable and necessary expenses.

Employees serving in an official capacity for ELINTSYS at conferences and meetings are reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred, such as travel expenses, meal costs, lodging, tips and registration fees. When attending meetings that have been approved by the HR Manager, employees are reimbursed for travel expenses and costs of meals and lodging at the current rates.

Employees may also request a travel advance to cover anticipated expenses approved travel. Employees also may be granted leave to attend a conference or professional meeting related to their professional development and/or organization's current and anticipated work. Expenses for these purposes can be paid by ELINTSYS and the employee obtains prior written approval of such expenses.

Employees are responsible for transportation costs between the office and home during normal work hours. Transportation costs are paid by ELINTSYS for work outside normal work hours if the employee is on official business for ELINTSYS.

Forms are provided to request reimbursement for actual expenses and advance payment for travel by submitting reimbursement form. Receipts must be provided for all expenditures made in order to claim reimbursement.

12. RETURN OF PROPERTY

Employees are responsible for ELINTSYS' equipment, property and work products that may be issued to them and/or are in their possession or control, including:

- Phone,
- Identification badges,
- Office/building keys,
- Computers, computerized diskettes, electronic/voice mail codes, and
- Intellectual property (e.g., written materials, work products).

In the event of separation from employment, or immediately upon request by the HR Manager or his / her designee, Employees must return all ELINTSYS property that is in their possession or control.

ELINTSYS may withhold from the employee's final paycheck the cost of any property, including intellectual property, which is not returned when required. ELINTSYS also may take any action deemed appropriate to recover or protect its property.

13. REVIEW OF PERSONNEL ACTION

Employees may request a review of a personnel action or an unsatisfactory performance review. Employees are expected first to discuss their concern with their immediate supervisor. If further discussion is desired, the employee may then discuss the situation with the HR Manager. The decision of the HR Manager is final.

14. NON-DISCLOSURE OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Any information that an employee learns about ELINTSYS, or its members as a result of working for ELINTSYS that is not otherwise publicly available constitutes confidential information. Employees may not disclose confidential information to anyone who is not employed by ELINTSYS or to other persons employed by ELINTSYS who do not need to know such information to assist in rendering services.

The protection of privileged and confidential information, including trade secrets, is vital to the interests and the success of ELINTSYS. The disclosure, distribution, electronic transmission or copying of ELINTSYS' confidential information is prohibited. Such information includes, but is not limited to the following examples:

- Compensation data.
- Program and financial information, including information related to clients, pending projects and proposals.

Employees are required to sign a non-disclosure agreement as a condition of employment. Any employee who discloses confidential information will be subject to disciplinary action (including possible separation), even if he or she does not actually benefit from the disclosure of such information.

Discussions involving sensitive information should always be held in confidential settings to safeguard the confidentiality of the information. Conversations regarding confidential information generally should not be conducted on cellular phones, or restrooms, restaurants or other places where conversations might be overheard.

15. ONSITE PROCEDURE

Employees shall be deputed at onsite depending on the project requirement. Employees who are deputed at onsite should not disclose any information or share data in any form which includes oral, verbal, written, emails and/or by means of electronic data about the projects or client details or operational procedures of ELINTSYS to anyone. Employee should not resign from Elintsys during onsite deputation, Employee should not join any of ELINTSYS' clients for next 24 months after or during onsite deputation and/ or to join any other organization for period of 6 month. This also includes the circumstance where resigning from service at ELINTSYS and joining any other organization and later joining any of ELINTSYS' clients from there. In all such cases ELINTSYS will have the right to take measure to protect its interest.

16. COMPUTER AND INFORMATION SECURITY

This section sets forth some important rules relating to the use of ELINTSYS' computer and communications systems. These systems include individual PCs provided to employees, centralized computer equipment, all associated software, ELINTSYS' telephone, voice mail and electronic mail systems. ELINTSYS has provided these systems to support its mission.

No use of these systems should ever conflict with the primary purpose for which they have been provided, ELINTSYS's ethical responsibilities or with applicable laws and regulations. Each user is personally responsible to ensure that these guidelines are followed.

All data in ELINTSYS' computer and communication systems (including documents, other electronic files, e-mail and recorded voice mail messages) are the property of ELINTSYS. The organization may inspect and monitor such data at any time. No individual should have any expectation of privacy for messages or other data recorded in ELINTSYS' systems.

This includes documents or messages marked "private," which may be inaccessible to most users but remain available to ELINTSYS. Likewise, the deletion of a document or message may not prevent access to the item or completely eliminate the item from the system.

ELINTSYS' systems must not be used to create or transmit material that is derogatory, defamatory, obscene or offensive, such as slurs, epithets or anything that might be construed as harassment or disparagement based on race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, age, physical or mental disability, medical condition, marital status, or religious or political beliefs. Similarly, ELINTSYS' systems must not be used to solicit or proselytize others for commercial purposes, causes, outside organizations, chain messages or other non-job-related purposes.

In addition, security facilities have been provided to restrict access to certain documents and files for the purpose of safeguarding information. The following activities, which present security risks, should be avoided.

- Attempts should not be made to bypass, or render ineffective, security facilities provided by the company.
- Passwords should not be shared between users. If written down, password should be kept in locked drawers or other places not easily accessible.
- Document libraries of other users should not be browsed unless there is a legitimate business reason to do so.
- Individual users should never make changes or modifications to the hardware configuration of computer equipment. Requests for such changes should be directed to computer support or the HR Manager.
- Additions to or modifications of the standard software configuration provided on ELINTSYS' PCs should never be attempted by individual users. Requests for such changes should be directed to computer support or the HR Manager.
- Individual users should never load personal software (including outside email services) to company computers. This practice risks the introduction of a computer virus into the system. Requests for loading such software should be directed to computer support or the HR Manager.

- Programs should never be downloaded or copied from other computers outside the company onto company computers. Downloading or copying such programs also risks the introduction of a computer virus. If there is a need for such programs, a request for assistance should be directed to computer support or the HR Manager. Downloading or copying documents from outside the company may be performed not to present a security risk.
- Users should not attempt to boot PCs from floppy/ external gadgets. This practice also risks the introduction of a computer virus.
- ELINTSYS' computer facilities should not be used to attempt unauthorized access to or use of other organizations' computer systems and data.
- Computer games should not be loaded on ELINTSYS' PCs.
- Unlicensed software should not be loaded or executed on Elintsys' PCs.
- Company software (whether developed internally or licensed) should not be copied onto floppy diskettes/CD/DVD or other media other than for the purpose of backing up your hard drive. Software documentation for programs developed and/or licensed by the company should not be removed from the company's offices.
- Individual users should not change the location or installation of computer equipment in offices and work areas. Requests for such changes should be directed to computer support or the HR Manager. There are a number of practices that individual users should adopt that will foster a higher level of security.

Among them are the following:

- Turn off your personal computer when you are leaving your work area or office for an extended period of time.
- Exercise judgment in assigning an appropriate level of security to documents stored on the company's networks, based on a realistic appraisal of the need for confidentiality or privacy.
- Remove previously written information from floppy cd/DVD/diskettes before copying documents on such diskettes for delivery outside ELINTSYS.
- Back up any information stored locally on your personal computer (other than network-based software and documents) on a frequent and regular basis.
- If you have any questions about any of the above policy guidelines, please contact the System Administrator.

17. INTERNET ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

ELINTSYS has provided access to the Internet for users to support its mission. No use of the Internet should conflict with the primary purpose of ELINTSYS, its ethical responsibilities or with applicable laws and regulations. Each user is personally responsible to ensure that these guidelines are followed. Serious repercussions, including termination, may result if the guidelines are not followed. ELINTSYS may monitor usage of the Internet by employees, including reviewing a list of sites accessed by an individual. No individual should have any expectation of privacy in terms of his or her usage of the Internet. In addition, ELINTSYS may restrict access to certain sites that it deems are not necessary for business purposes. ELINTSYS' connection to the Internet may not be used for any of the following activities:

- The Internet must not be used to access, create, transmit, print or download material that is derogatory, defamatory, obscene, or offensive, such as slurs, epithets, or anything that may be construed as harassment or disparagement based on race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, age, disability, medical condition, marital status, or religious or political beliefs.

- The Internet must not be used to access, send, receive or solicit sexually-oriented messages.
- Downloading or disseminating or images of copyrighted material that is available on the Internet is an infringement of copyright law. Permission to copy the material must be obtained from the publisher. For assistance with copyrighted material, contact computer support or the HR Manager.
- Without prior approval of the System Administrator, software should not be downloaded from the Internet as the download could introduce a computer virus onto ELINTSYS' computer equipment. In addition, copyright laws may cover the software so the downloading could be an infringement of copyright law.
- Employees should safeguard against using the Internet to transmit personal comments or statements through e-mail or to post information to news groups that may be mistaken as the position of ELINTSYS.
- Employees should guard against the disclosure of confidential information through the use of Internet e-mail or news groups.
- Employees should not download personal e-mail or Instant Messaging software to ELINTSYS' computers.
- The Internet should not be used to send or participate in chain letters, pyramid schemes or other illegal schemes.
- The Internet should not be used to solicit or proselytize others for commercial purposes, causes, outside organizations, chain messages or other non-job-related purposes.
- The Internet should not be used to endorse political candidates or campaigns. The Internet provides access to many sites that charge a subscription or usage fee to access and use the information on the site. Requests for approval must be submitted to System Administrator.

If you have any questions regarding any of the policy guidelines listed above, please contact System Administrator or the HR Manager.

18. COMPANY E-MAIL POLICY

Aim

To set forth the Company's Policies with regard to access, review, or disclosure of electronic mail ("e-mail") messages sent or received by company employees with the use of the company e-mail system. It also sets forth policies on the proper use of the e-mail system provided by the company.

Confidential Company Information:

Employees must exercise a greater degree of caution in transmitting company confidential information on the e-mail system than they take with other means of communicating information, (e.g., written memoranda, letters or phone calls) because of the reduced human effort required to redistribute such information. Company's confidential information should never be transmitted or forwarded to outside individuals or former employees or companies not authorized to receive that information and should not even be sent or forwarded to other employees inside the company who do not need to know the information. Always use care in addressing e-mail messages to make sure that messages are not inadvertently sent to outsiders or the wrong person inside the company. In particular, exercise care when using distribution lists to make sure that all addressees are appropriate recipients of the information.

Use of the e-mail system to copy and/or transmit any documents, software or other information protected by the copyright laws is prohibited.

Systematic monitoring:

Network administrators can implement monitoring schemes on e-mail. Employees must be informed about how their e-mail is being monitored.

- No systematic monitoring.
- Monitoring allowed for any business purpose.
- Monitoring only with good cause or legal obligation.

19. EMERGENCY MEASURES (INCLEMENT WEATHER)

We realize that bad weather or hazardous commuting conditions may occasionally make it impossible for employees to report to work on time.

However, you are expected to make a diligent effort to report to work when conditions have improved. If you determine that you are unable to report to work because of the conditions, inform your supervisor as soon as possible. Your absence will be charged to leave without information.

If it becomes necessary to shut down the office due to weather or other emergency, every effort will be made to notify employees. If there is a question as to whether the office will be open, call HR team.

20. REFERENCE/BACKGROUND CHECKS

ELINTSYS conducts reference and background checks on all new employees. Employees who have falsified information on their employment applications will be disciplined, which could include termination. Applicants who have provided false information may be eliminated from further consideration for employment.

21. ZERO TOLERANCE FOR WORKPLACE VIOLENCE

ELINTSYS has a zero-tolerance policy concerning threats, intimidation and violence of any kind in the workplace either committed by or directed to our employees. Employees who engage in such conduct will be disciplined, up to and including immediate termination of employment. Employees are not permitted to bring weapons of any kind onto company premises or to company functions. Any employee who is suspected of possessing a weapon will be subject to a search at the company's discretion. Such searches may include, but not be limited to, the employee's personal effects, desk and workspace.

If an employee feels he or she has been subjected to threats or threatening conduct by a co-worker, vendor or customer, the employee should notify his or her supervisor or another member of management immediately. Employees will not be penalized for reporting such concerns.

22. WORKPLACE SOLICITATION

To promote a professional and collegial workplace, prevent disruptions in business or interference with work and avoid personal inconvenience, ELINTSYS has adopted rules about soliciting for any cause and distributing literature of any kind in workplace.

Employees may not solicit on ELINTSYS property or use company facilities, such as e-mail, voicemail or bulletin boards during working time for solicitation. This policy applies to collecting funds, requesting contributions, selling merchandise, gathering employee signatures and promoting membership in clubs or organizations.

Working time means time during which employees are expected to be actively engaged in their assigned work; it does not include scheduled meal or break periods.

You may solicit another employee only if both you and the other employee are not on working time and you may distribute literature only in nonworking areas and while not on working time to other employees who are not on working time.

23. ETHICAL AND LEGAL BUSINESS PRACTICES

ELINTSYS expects the highest standard of ethical conduct and fair dealing from each employee, officer, director, volunteer and all others associated with the Company. Our reputation is a valuable asset and we must continually earn the trust, confidence and respect of our suppliers, our members, our customers and our community.

This policy provides general guidance on the ethical principles that we all must follow, but no guideline can anticipate all situations. You should also be guided by basic honesty and good judgment and be sensitive to others' perceptions and interpretations.

If you have any questions about this policy, consult your supervisor or manager. You are expected to promptly disclose to the management of the company anything that may violate this policy. We will not tolerate retaliation or retribution against anyone who brings violations to management's attention.

24. DATING IN THE WORK PLACE

Supervisors and employees under their supervision are strongly discouraged from forming romantic or sexual relationships. Such relationships can create the impression of impropriety in terms and conditions of employment and can interfere with productivity and the overall work environment.

If you are unsure of the appropriateness of an interaction with another employee of the Company, contact the HR department for guidance. If you are encouraged or pressured to become involved with a customer or employee in a way that makes you feel uncomfortable and is unwelcome, you should also notify your manager or HR immediately. No customer or employee of this company has the right to subject any employee to sexual or other unlawful harassment, including requests for sexual favors, sexual advances, offensive touching and any other unwanted verbal, graphic, conduct or communications of a sexual nature.

You should also be aware of and are expected to comply with, ELINTSYS' policy against sexual and other forms of illegal harassment in the workplace. Appropriate action, which may include a transfer or reassignment, leave of absence, suspension or termination, will be taken against those who violate this policy.

25. COMPANY PROPERTY

Please keep your work area neat and clean and use normal care in handling company property. Report any broken or damaged equipment to your manager immediately so that proper repairs can be made.

You may not use any company property for personal purposes or remove any company property from the premises without prior written permission from the HR Manager.

26. PROHIBITED BEHAVIOR

ELINTSYS does not and will not tolerate any type of harassment of our employees, applicants for employment, or our customers. Discriminatory conduct or conduct characterized as harassment as defined below is prohibited.

The term harassment includes, but is not limited to, slurs, jokes and other verbal or physical conduct relating to a person's gender, ethnicity, race, color, creed, religion, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, marital status or any other protected classification that unreasonably interferes with a person's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile work environment.

27. VISITORS POLICY

All employees need to ensure that any visitor coming to meet them takes prior appointment as far as possible. The employee needs to intimate the same to the Security and the Reception. On the arrival of the visitor, Security would inform the concerned person who can either receive the visitor himself or direct the guest to the visitor's area. After the visit the visitor should be escorted to the reception. However, if a visitor comes uninformed, security will check with the concerned person. If the person declines to accept or to receive the guest, the visitor would be sent back. If the visitor is accepted then the below mentioned procedure will be followed:

Code of conduct (with outsiders):

All the visitors to the premises must be met and the discussions held in the common reception/discussion area.

An employee is not expected to:

- Discuss his/her company related activities with an outsider.
- Give out customer information.
- Comment on issues that are a subject matter in the court of law.
- Discuss financial projections of the company.
- Discuss plans, programs, products or operations of the company.

If anyone is found to be transgressing this he/she shall be liable for suitable disciplinary action including termination from the services & organization reserves the right to prosecute the employee concerned or recover the damage incurred thereof. The following guidelines are intended to assist on the dos and don'ts while dealing with the visitors who visit the Company.

In case any visitor /govt. official in or around the premises, gets in touch with you and asks you for particulars or wants to hand over any document in the name of the company, please inform them to get in touch with Administration or HR department or put them in touch with Administration/HR personally. Certain govt. officials have the power to interrogate employees in the course of their official duty. In all such cases, the company will inform the employees the purpose of the officials visits etc.

In case an employee is not aware of the reason of the official's visit, he may ask the government official what the queries relate to. If he is unsure of the reason or justifiability, he should contact HR/ Administration manager and take their prior approval. His replies should be truthful and to the point. Do not volunteer on your own more information than asked for. At the end of the interrogation, in case the govt. official records the replies and asks you to sign it, read what has been recorded. You can ask for corrections. If information has been recorded correctly you may sign it. Signing a statement means, you agree with the facts contained in it. Hence it is important that the statement is accurate and truthful.

Where the visitor is not a government official and is asking for any particulars please put them in touch with your manager /HR or Administration to do the needful.

In case you receive any telephone, call seeking information about Elintsys please direct it to your Manager/HR or Administration Department.

The above points are only guidelines on how to interact with govt. officials and the same do not constitute any official direction given by the company.

28. EMERGENCY SITUATION POLICY

- A. In the event of fire, earthquake or any other calamity, the employees are expected to save their lives in the best possible manner.
- B. In the event of holdup/robbery/armed intruders' employee are expected not to risk their life unreasonably to resist the criminals but comply with their instruction and safeguard their lives. As soon as danger to their life is over, the employee is expected to contact the police and give a written report to this effect.

29. GRIEVANCE HANDLING

Recognizing the value and the importance of full discussion in clearing up misunderstandings and preserving harmonious relations, every possible effort shall be taken to dispose off any inquiries or complaints or questions from an employee at the lowest possible level.

Grievance shall be defined as a complaint by the employee concerned which is subsection of his immediate superior and which is subsequently not settled to the satisfaction of the employee. It is agreed that an employee shall have on grievance until has given to his immediate superior an opportunity of adjusting the said grievance.

30. GENERAL RULES: DOS AND DON'TS

1. The Company e-mail system is primarily for the Company business use. Occasional and reasonable personal use is permitted provided that this does not interfere with the performance of your duties.
2. All e-mails are stored and the Company may inspect e-mail (including personal e-mail) at any time without notice.
3. Obtain confirmation of receipt for important e-mails sent.
4. Make and keep hard copies of important e-mails sent and received if instructed.
5. Check your e-mail on each working day.
6. Reply promptly to all e-mail messages requiring a reply in 15 mins.
7. Do not impersonate any other person when using e-mail or amend messages received.
8. Do not import any non-text file, including files received as e-mail attachments, onto your system without first checking them for viruses.
9. Do not create e-mail congestion by sending trivial messages or personal messages or by copying e-mails to those who do not need to see them.
10. Do not deliberately visit, view or download any material from any Web site containing obscene or illegal material or material that is offensive in any way whatsoever.

31. WORKPLACE ETIQUETTE

Elintsys strives to maintain a positive work environment where employees treat each other with respect and courtesy. Sometimes issues arise when employees are unaware that their behavior in the workplace may be disruptive or annoying to others.

Many of these day-to-day issues can be addressed by politely talking with a co-worker to bring the perceived problem to his or her attention. In most cases, common sense will dictate an appropriate resolution. Elintsys encourages all employees to keep an open mind and graciously accept constructive feedback or a request to change behavior that may be affecting another employee's ability to concentrate and be productive.

The following workplace etiquette guidelines are not necessarily intended to be hard and fast work rules with disciplinary consequences. They are simply suggestions for appropriate workplace behavior to help everyone be more conscientious and considerate of co-workers and the work environment. Please contact the Human Resource department if you have comments, concerns or suggestions regarding these workplace etiquette guidelines.

- Return copy machine and printer settings to their default settings after changing them.
- Replace paper in the copy machine and printer paper trays when they are empty.
- Retrieve print jobs in a timely manner and be sure to collect all your pages.

- Be prompt when using the manual feed on the printer.
- Keep the area around the copy machine and printers orderly and picked up.
- Be careful not to take or discard others' print jobs or faxes when collecting your own.
- Avoid public accusations or criticisms of other employees. Address such issues privately with those involved or your supervisor.
- Try to minimize unscheduled interruptions of other employees while they are working.
- Communicate by email or phone whenever possible, instead of walking unexpectedly into someone's cubical or workspace.
- Be conscious of how your voice travels and try to lower the volume of your voice when talking on the phone or to others in open areas.
- Keep socializing to a minimum and try to conduct conversations in areas where the noise will not be distracting others.
- Minimize talking between workspaces or over cubicle walls. Instead, conduct conversations with others in their workspace.
- Try not to block walkways while carrying on conversations.
- Refrain from using inappropriate language.
- Monitor the volume when listening to voice mail or a speakerphone that others can hear.
- Clean up after yourself and do not leave behind waste or discarded papers.

32. POLICY PROHIBITING HARASSMENT AND DISCRIMINATION

ELINTSYS strives to maintain an environment free from discrimination and harassment, where employees treat each other with respect, dignity and courtesy. Sexually harassing behavior includes unwelcome conduct such as sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, offensive touching, or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

Elintsys is committed to providing a work environment that is free from all forms of discrimination and conduct that can be considered harassing, coercive or disruptive, including sexual harassment. Actions, words, jokes or comments based on an individual's sex, race, color, national origin, age, religion, disability or any other legally protected characteristic will not be tolerated.

Sexual harassment is defined as unwanted sexual advances or visual, verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. This definition includes many forms of offensive behavior and includes gender-based harassment of a person of the same sex as the harasser.

The following is a partial list of sexual harassment examples:

- Unwanted sexual advances.
- Offering employment benefits in exchange for sexual favors.
- Making or threatening reprisals after a negative response to sexual advances.
- Visual conduct that includes leering, making sexual gestures, or displaying of sexually suggestive objects or pictures, cartoons or posters.
- Verbal conduct that includes making or using derogatory comments, epithets, slurs or jokes.
- Verbal sexual advances or propositions.
- Verbal abuse of a sexual nature, graphic verbal commentaries about an individual's body, sexually degrading words or suggestive or obscene letters or invitations.
- Physical conduct that includes touching, assaulting, or impeding or blocking movements.
- Unwelcome sexual advances (either verbal or physical), requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when:
 1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment;
 2. Submission or rejection of the conduct is used as a basis for making employment decisions; or,
 3. The conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment.

If you experience or witness any form of sexual or other unlawful harassment in the workplace report it immediately to your supervisor. If the supervisor is unavailable or you believe it would be inappropriate to contact that person, you should immediately contact the Human Resource department or any other member of management.

All allegations of sexual harassment will be quickly and discreetly investigated. To the extent possible, your confidentiality and that of any witnesses and the alleged harasser will be protected against unnecessary disclosure. When the investigation is completed, you will be informed of the outcome of the investigation.

Any supervisor or manager who becomes aware of possible sexual or other unlawful harassment must immediately advise the Human Resource department or any member of management so it can be investigated in a timely and confidential manner. Anyone engaging in sexual or other unlawful harassment will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

33. PERFORMANCE REVIEWS AND SALARY INCREASES

Salary reviews are conducted annually for each employee and appraisals are based on those reviews, as well as our profitability. However, an employee receiving a performance appraisal will not necessarily receive a salary increase. The amount of increment to be paid to the employees is a policy decision of the company. Usually, it is based on the annual performance rating of the employee for the year. Performance appraisal does not give any guarantee of salary increment/hike. It is solely based on employee's work performance and KRAs defined by the company.

34. PROBLEM RESOLUTION POLICY

Company is committed to providing the best possible working conditions for its employees. Part of this commitment is encouraging an open and frank atmosphere in which any problem, complaint, suggestion or question receives a timely response from company management.

Company strives to ensure fair and honest treatment of all employees. Supervisors, managers, and employees are expected to treat each other with mutual respect. Employees are encouraged to offer positive and constructive criticism.

If employees disagree with established rules of conduct, policies or practices, they can express their concern through the problem resolution procedure. No employee will be penalized, formally or informally, for voicing a complaint with company in a reasonable, business-like manner or for using the problem resolution procedure.

If a situation occurs when employees believe that a condition of employment or a decision affecting them is unjust or inequitable, they are encouraged to make use of the following steps.

2. Procedure of problem resolution

The employee may discontinue the procedure at any step.

- Employee presents problem to immediate reporting authority or manager after incident occurs. If manager is unavailable or employee believes it would be inappropriate to contact that person, employee may present problem to HR dept or any other member of management.
- Manager responds to problem during discussion or after consulting with appropriate management, when necessary. Manager documents discussion.
- Employee presents problem to HR dept if problem is unresolved.
- HR dept counsels and advises employee, assists in putting problem in writing and visits with employee's manager(s), if necessary.
- Employee presents problem to the CEO in writing.
- The CEO reviews and considers problem. The CEO informs employee of decision and forwards copy of written response to HR dept for employee's file. The Manager has full authority to make any adjustment deemed appropriate to resolve the problem.

Not every problem can be resolved to everyone's total satisfaction, but only through understanding and discussion of mutual problems can employees and management develop confidence in each other. This confidence is important to the operation of an efficient and harmonious work environment and helps to ensure everyone's job security.

35. EMPLOYEE LOAN POLICY

1. Eligibility for Loan

- All Employees who have completed one year of service in the organization are eligible for an interest free loan subject to availability of the fund. Any kind of tax liability applicable on the loan amount will be borne by the employee.
- The basic criterion for eligibility is a genuine verifiable purpose for which the employee has applied for a loan.

2. Eligibility amount and repayment

- The maximum amount to be sanctioned as a loan (current drawn) three months gross salary of the employee. Application for a higher amount will be subject to approval from the CFO. The sanction will depend on the sole discretion of the CFO.

- The loan will be repayable within three months (maximum) or short period in equal monthly deduction from salary every month. The deduction of installments from salary will start from the month subsequent to which the loan has been sanctioned.
- If an employee wants to repay the balance amount in a single installment within 30 months, employee can inform the HR about his/her intent and HR shall facilitate the repayment. The mode of payment will be only by cheque or bank transfer and cash transfers are not acceptable.
- For employees, who have been in the organization for more than 4 years, loan request is higher than the eligibility have to be recommended by the Reporting Head and have to be approved by Head of Finance / Head of HR.

3. Procedure

- The applicant has to fill the loan application form. Then duly filled form thereafter forwarded to HR department with respective department heads comment on it.
- The HR department verifies the eligibility amount and forwards the application to CFO for the approval. The sanction / rejection of loan is finally at the discretion of the CFO.
- After the loan is sanctioned, an advice is given by HR to finance to process the payment.
- If an employee leaves the organization before the repayment of the full loan amount, the employee is liable to pay the balance of the loan amount before being relieved.

36. LAPTOP USAGE POLICY

The policy intends to minimize Elintsys exposure to information security risk as well as increase the user's personal safety and safeguard the company's hardware investment.

Elintsys relies heavily on its ability to access up-to-date and complete business information; the loss or unauthorized modification of data on portable devices can impact heavily on the company's ability to function effectively or management's ability to make informed business decisions. It is therefore essential for all laptop users to adhere to the contents of this policy.

1.0 Purpose

Laptop computers provide important functionality, allowing employees to have their computing resource at hand in meetings/workplace or even at home in certain time pressing situations so as to enable employees to be maximally functional and productive while away from office premises.

This policy describes the controls necessary to minimize information security risks that may affect Elintsys. Laptop computers may be viewed as an essential and convenient business tool but their very portability makes them particularly vulnerable to physical damage or theft. The impact of such a breach includes not just the replacement value of the hardware but also the value of organizational data on them, or accessible through them. Information is a vital asset for Elintsys. The impacts of unauthorized access to or modification of, important and/or sensitive data can far outweigh the cost of the equipment itself.

The specific information given in this policy manual is directly relevant to laptops and, in case of conflict, takes precedence over other policies.

2.0 Scope

This policy and the procedures herein affect all employees who use laptops for official purposes.

An employee using company provided laptops is responsible for the security of that laptop, regardless of whether the laptop is used in the office, at one's place of residence, or in any other location such as a hotel, conference room or while travelling.

3.0 Procedures

3.1 Eligibility

Elintsys Employees will be provided with a laptop when it is essential to their productivity and function. When issued with a company laptop, users accept to abide to, the company's laptop usage policy. Laptops shall be provided to employees purely at the discretion of the management. The decision of the management to provide an employee with a laptop or a desktop shall be based on the following factors

- The nature of the employees' job (e.g. need to operate system simultaneously along with other official interactions)
- Their working environments/conditions (whether or not they have permanent/individual office space)
- The criticality of an employee's availability outside of working hours.

Keeping in view these factors certain position at Elintsys shall be provided with company owned laptops on a priority basis as compared to others however it is the eventual intent of the company to ensure uniform asset provision to all employees.

3.2 Issuance & Registration

All employees that are provided with company owned laptop shall be required to undergo the laptop issuance and registration procedure. This procedure requires the employee to sign undertaking form upon on issuance. The system admin shall ensure that the laptop undertaking form is duly filled and signed by the employee.

3.3 Intended Use of Laptops

Every laptop user must ensure that the laptop is being used only for official purposes and in the course of the rightful discharge of their duties and not for generating, transmitting, corresponding any content that is contrary to company policies. This may lead to the user being subject to disciplinary or any other appropriate action as per company policies.

4.0 Laptop Security Controls

All laptops acquired for employees on behalf of the company shall be deemed company property. Each employee issued with a laptop shall be responsible for the security of that laptop, regardless of whether the laptop is used in the office, at the employee's place of residence, or in any other location such as a hotel, conference room, car or airport. Laptop users shall ensure security of the laptop in each of the following domains as per the stated guidelines.

4.1 Physical Security & Theft Prevention

In order to ensure physical security of laptops and data therein, all laptop users are required to undertake the following actions:

- The physical security of company provided laptops is the user's personal responsibility. He/she is therefore required to take all reasonable precautions, be sensible and stay alert to the risks.

- Keep your laptop in your possession and within sight whenever possible, just as if it were your wallet, handbag or mobile phone. Be extra careful in public places such as airports, railway stations or restaurants. It takes thieves just a fraction of a second to steal an unattended laptop. Never leave the laptop unattended when using it outside the office. Do not leave the computing device for prolonged periods of time in a vehicle, especially in extreme temperatures.
- Lock the laptop away out of sight when you are not using it, preferably in a strong cupboard, filing cabinet or safe. This applies at home, in the office or in a hotel. Keep the computing device in a locked and secured environment when not being used.
- Keep food and drinks away from all computing devices and work areas.
- Never leave a laptop visibly unattended in a vehicle. If absolutely necessary, lock it out of sight in the trunk or glove box but it is generally much safer to take it with you.
- Carry and store the laptop in a padded laptop computer bag or strong briefcase to reduce the chance of accidental damage.
- Keep a note of the make, model, serial number and the Elintsys asset label of your laptop but do not keep this information with the laptop.
- Should an employee's computing device be lost or stolen, the employee MUST:
 - I. immediately report the incident to his/her immediate supervisor and management;
 - II. obtain an official police report documenting the theft or loss; and
 - III. Provide a copy of the police report to his/her immediate supervisor.
 - IV. Elintsys is under no legal, financial or other obligation to provide for a replacement computing device to any employee whose device is lost, stolen or damaged.

If the employee fails to adhere to these procedures, the employee will be held legally and financially responsible to Elintsys for the replacement of such equipment.

4.2 Data Security Controls

Laptop users are expected to ensure the security of the data within their laptops. In this regard they are to adhere to the following:

- Ensure the use of approved encryption software on all corporate laptops, choose a long, strong encryption password/phrase and keep it secure.
- You are personally accountable for all network and systems access under your user ID, so keep your password absolutely secret. Never share it with anyone, not even members of your family, friends or IT staff.
- Laptops are provided for official use by authorized employees. Do not loan your laptop or allow it to be used by others such as family and friends.
- Avoid leaving your laptop unattended and logged-on. Always shut down, log off or activate a password-protected screensaver before walking away from the machine.

4.3 Data Access During Employee Leaves

When proceeding on extended leave periods employees shall be expected to handover their laptop systems to the authorized person appointed by Elintsys.

All official systems whether laptop or desktop shall have at least the following two login accounts:

An account maintained by the individual employee to whom the laptop has been assigned. He/she is to ensure that its password is retained only by them and is changed on a frequent.

An administrative account maintained by the ASE. This account will serve the purpose of accessing official data on the system when an employee proceeds on extending leaves.

37. UNIFORM POLICY

Objective

- To ensure employees who are engaged in service at Client location are clearly identified as representing Elintsys Technologies.
- To allow employees to be easily identified and to establish a consistent corporate appearance.
- To present a recognizable, tidy and professional image of staff to the community.
- To ensure that staff are appropriately dressed for their duties.

Policy

- Employees engaged in tasks involving customers and alliance partners are required to wear company-designated uniforms at all times while working and representing Elintsys Technologies.
- Employees temporarily visiting client location are required to wear company-designated uniform.
- Employees working at Elintsys premises are required to wear uniform twice a week.
- It is mandatory for employees to wear uniform whenever client visits Elintsys premises.
- Each new employee will receive three uniforms upon hire. Employees are required to sign for the uniforms, and the uniforms are considered company property and are to be returned in the event of termination of employment or anytime on demand.

- Upon issue, company uniforms become the responsibility of the employee for maintenance and care. In the event a uniform needs repair or replacement, employees will be required to return the uniform in exchange for a replacement. While normal wear and tear is expected, anything damage that is outside of the normal 'wear and tear' that requires a replacement is at the employees' expense.
- Elintsys may issue new uniforms periodically or require uniforms to be returned for special purposes (e.g., logo change, corporate color change). Employees will be given notice of the exchange, and the company will provide suitable replacement uniforms.
- Employees are required to return all issued uniforms upon termination of employment. If all issued uniforms are not returned, Elintsys will deduct the cost of the uniforms from the employee's final paycheck.
- It is expected that employees treat their uniform with reasonable care. This includes laundering the uniform on a regular basis.
- Any abuse, breach or failure to follow or adhere to this policy may be considered to be misconduct or if of a serious nature, it may be considered as serious misconduct and may lead to disciplinary action.
- Primarily uniforms are to be worn only during working hours and employees should take care to refrain from wearing uniforms outside of work.
- Employees must recognize that when wearing the uniform, they are recognized as representing Elintsys Technologies.

The consumption of alcohol and drugs whilst in uniform is prohibited.

38. SMOKING, DRUG AND ALCOHOL POLICY

ELINTSYS strives to maintain a workplace free of Smoking, drugs and alcohol and to discourage drug and alcohol abuse by its employees. Misuse of alcohol or drugs by employees can impair the ability of employees to perform their duties, as well as adversely affect our customers and customers' confidence in our company.

Illegal Drugs

ELINTSYS' employees are prohibited from using or being under the influence of illegal drugs while performing company business or while on a company facility or worksite. You may not use, manufacture, distribute, purchase, transfer or possess an illegal drug while in ELINTSYS facilities, while operating a motor vehicle for any job-related purpose or while on the job or while performing company business. This policy does not prohibit the proper use of medication under the direction of a physician; however, misuse of such medications is prohibited.

Alcohol

Employees are prohibited from using or being under the influence of alcohol while performing company business for ELINTSYS, while operating a motor vehicle in the course of business or for any job-related purpose or while on company premises or a worksite.

Smoking

Smoking is prohibited inside the company's premises all employees, clients and other visitors are expected to comply with this policy and employees who violate it may be disciplined.

Drug Testing

ELINTSYS may require a blood test, urinalysis, hair test or other drug or alcohol screening of employees suspected of using or being under the influence of drugs or alcohol or where other circumstances or workplace conditions justify such testing. The refusal to consent to testing may result in disciplinary action, including termination.

Searches

ELINTSYS may conduct searches for illegal drugs or alcohol on company facilities or worksites without prior notice to employees. Such searches may be conducted at any time. Employees are expected to cooperate fully.

Searches of employees and their personal property may be conducted when there is reasonable suspicion to believe that the employee has violated this policy or when circumstances or workplace conditions justify such a search. Personal property may include, but is not limited to, purses, boxes, briefcases, as well as any ELINTSYS' property that is provided for employees' personal use, such as desks, lockers, personal email and files.

An employee's consent to a search is required as a condition of employment and the employee's refusal to consent may result in disciplinary action, including termination.

39. MISCONDUCT AND GROSS OR SERIOUS MISCONDUCT

Elintsys has a human resources' strategy that recognizes the value of its people. Part of this strategy is the fair treatment of all employees. This requires a minimum standard of conduct and performance be agreed, set and communicated with all employees. If employees do not meet this standard, appropriate corrective action, such as training, should be undertaken. Discipline should only be engaged with an employee on a performance issue if all other corrective action has failed to achieve the desired result.

Where an employee has deliberately breached a Company policy or procedure, or engaged in misconduct, disciplinary procedures should be initiated.

Employees should be treated fairly and the proper procedures should be followed.

Employees must be made aware of their responsibilities, counselled and given the opportunity to reach the standards expected of them and the chance to defend them before action is taken.

The expected standard must be clearly defined and the measurement criteria have to be understood. A reasonable date for achievement of standards must be agreed. This should be shown as a minimum time, e.g. within one month.

For serious issues, employees must be advised in writing and such advice should be recorded on the employee's personnel file.

Misconduct

Misconduct is conduct that falls below the company's expected standards of behavior as set out in the staff code of conduct. Instances of misconduct will not warrant dismissal on the first occasion or without previous warning.

List of Misconduct:

- Refusal to obey legitimate management instructions.
- Negligence in performance of duties.
- Bad time keeping including taking excess breaks.
- Absenteeism and leaving the workplace without permission.
- Misconduct in relationships with fellow employees, clients or members of the Public.
- Damage to company's property.
- Swearing or verbal abuse of fellow employees, clients or members of the Public.
- Being under the influence of drink or other intoxicants during business hours.
- Breach of safety rules.

Procedures to handle misconduct

Managers are expected to investigate misconduct and proceed through the following steps:

- A verbal warning should be given to an employee for minor misconduct. A record of the warning must be kept by the manager and should be signed by the employee. The employee must be given the opportunity to respond.

- If the unacceptable behavior continues, a written warning will be issued and signed by the employee as being received and understood. The employee must be given the opportunity to respond.
- A second written warning should be given to an employee if he/she requires further discipline for the same or a related issue, and also signed by the employee as being received and understood. The employee must be given the opportunity to respond.
- Employees who have been disciplined three times are subject to termination.
- Details of disciplinary actions should be recorded on the employee's personnel file.

If a manager considers the allegation to be serious, and it requires further investigation, an employee should be suspended on base pay for a maximum of two weeks while an investigation takes place. The individual must be informed, in writing, of the details of the allegation and advised he/she is under investigation. The employee must sign this notice as being received and understood.

This letter should invite the employee to present his/her version of events to the investigating officer and inform he/she may be accompanied by a representative. The only purpose of the representative's visit is to observe – they are not participants.

Should we consider an employee's conduct likely to lead to a situation in which we may wish to dismiss without notice, a document must be kept at all times to record incidents and conversations and associated matters which may be needed in subsequent proceedings. The relevant manager is responsible for keeping this document. This manager should also issue a written warning that a continuance of such behavior will lead to instant dismissal.

Gross or Serious Misconduct

Serious misconduct is any behavior which destroys or undermines the relationship of trust and confidence between the employer and employee. If an employee is found to have taken part in serious misconduct, they may receive a first and final warning or be immediately dismissed.

Summary (instant) dismissal for gross or very serious misconduct is possible (depending on the facts involved) for the following: insubordination, drunkenness, dishonesty, assault, deliberately endangering the safety of others, commission of a criminal offence on our site and objectionable language. *Managers must, however, consult with senior management prior to taking this action.

List of Gross Misconduct:

- Engaging in any trade or business outside the scope of his duties except with the written permission of the company;
- Unauthorized disclosure of information regarding the affairs of the company or any of its customers or any other person connected with the business of the company which is confidential or the disclosure of which is likely to be prejudicial to the interests of the company;
- Drunkenness or riotous or disorderly or indecent behavior on the premises of the company;
- Willful damage or attempt to cause damage to the property of the company or any of its customers;
- Willful insubordination or disobedience of any lawful and reasonable order of the management or of a superior;
- Habitual doing of any act which amounts to “minor misconduct” as defined below, “habitual” meaning a course of action taken or persisted in, notwithstanding that at least on three previous occasions censure or warnings have been administered or an adverse remark has been entered against him;
- Willful slowing down in performance of work;
- Gambling or betting on the premises of the company

- Speculation in stocks, shares, securities or any commodity whether on his account or that of any other persons;
- Doing any act of gross negligence or negligence involving or likely to involve the company in serious loss;
- Giving or taking a bribe or illegal gratification from a customer or an employee of the company;
- Abetment or instigation of any of the acts or omissions above mentioned.
- Knowingly making a false statement in any document pertaining to or in connection with his employment in the company.
- Remaining unauthorizedly absent without intimation continuously for a period exceeding 3 days.
- Misbehavior towards customers arising out of company's business.
- Indulging in any act of 'sexual harassment' of any woman at her workplace.

Note: Sexual harassment shall include such unwelcome sexually determined behavior (whether directly or otherwise) as

- Physical contact and advances;
- Demand or request for sexual favors;
- Sexually colored remarks;
- Showing pornography; or
- Any other unwelcome physical verbal or non-verbal conduct of a sexual nature.

Procedures to handle gross misconduct

In such cases follow the procedure below:

- investigate the alleged offence thoroughly, including talking to witnesses, if any
- ask the employee for his/her response to the allegation (taking notes of this discussion)
- consult with the next most senior manager regarding possible action
- if still appropriate, following a thorough investigation, terminate/dismiss the employee
- keep a file on all evidence collected and action taken in these circumstances

All procedures must be followed in accordance with employment equal opportunity/anti-discrimination legislation.

Note: In all such cases 'procedural fairness' guidelines will apply. This means the warning and dismissal process must allow the employee to offer their view of the events concerned. The employee must have every chance to defend himself/herself and has the right to appeal a decision made.

*Note: For some offences Company retains the right to report the matter to the police where charges may be laid. The police will be notified with regard to any criminal act against the Company or another member of staff. Management has a duty of care to shareholders and staff and at all times will be subordinate to legal process.

40. TELEPHONE USAGE AND PHONE CALLS

Telephone Usage

The telephone system (including Voice mail) at Elintsys is the property of the company and is provided for business purposes. The organization may periodically monitor the usage of the telephone system to ensure compliance with this policy. Therefore, employees should not consider their conversations on the company's telephone system to be private.

Phone Calls

Employees are prohibited to use their personal mobile phones during working hours. The making and receiving of personal phone calls must be limited to a maximum of five minutes in duration if it is inevitable, unless otherwise approved by your manager during office hours. However, employees are allowed to use their mobile phones during break hours.
